

A theater for you . . .

The historic Portage Theater in Six Corners is now into its second year of operation since its reopening in 2006, and is well on its way as Chicago's utmost concert and film venue! The theatre serves as an important anchor for cultural and community events in the Portage Park and Old Irving Park neighborhoods. The venue also is a successful destination for a myriad of events brought in by both Chicago and national promoters.

Designed by prominent theatre architect Henry Newhouse, the unique megaphoned shaped auditorium, comfortably seats 1,321 midst an elegant Beaux-arts motif reminiscent of a classic opera house. The theatre's superb acoustics along with excellent sightlines, insure your event to be enjoyable for you and your patrons.

Perhaps the greatest benefit in holding your event at the Portage, is the assistance by our trained and experienced staff. If you wish, we can aid in any aspect of your production: technical, staffing, publicity, in-house reserved ticketing – we offer our expertise as a key component to your success.

We look forward to working with you – welcome to the Portage Theater!
